

High Bo Recd 6.00 Oct 12th 69
Plan of Brass 2 m 28 (1863) 17

Wood - a name given to Henslow Haste covered with knots and having a poor light soil but sometimes marshy and abounding in peat

Cairn - a monument of stones piled by the early inhabitants of Brittany as a sepulchral monument

The bronze horses once bought from Alexander of Augustus after his victory over Antony and transferred from Rome to Constantinople by Constantine were set before the church of St. Mark at Venice. They were taken by Napoleon and carried to Paris; but was afterwards carried back to Venice and placed in their old position on the great square of St. Mark in front of the church. - 367 Draper Intelligence del of Europe

"Arc de Triomphe du Carrousel"

Like those of Constantine & Severus at Rome height (high 63 feet) width 47 feet. The arch is surmounted by a chariot and four horses - replacing the four antique horses with which originally adorned the arch - but which were restored to their former position by the Alleis in 1814 over the portal of St. Mark. - Although bronze, these horses have travelled a great deal - known in Paris

Mt Everest the highest mountain in the world in height 29,002 feet

The greatest gale ever known in New England occurred (Sept 23<sup>d</sup> 1815)

The next Great Gale was Sept 8th 1869