

General Wolfe was eulogised in the following poem from the pen of (Tom Paine):—

"In a mounting car, when the ^{great} match'd
Britannia sat masthead with eun
She mourn'd for her wolf, and exclaimed against ^{fat}
And gave herself up to despair

Longitudinarian
Longitudinarian
Constantinople

