Dear Sir

I thought that I would try to put you into the hands of your son in the way of a gift, and I have done so, and I hope you will be pleased with it. I have also given you a new cross, and I hope you
 given you a new watch, and I hope you
 given you a new ring, and I hope you
 given you a new pair of shoes, and I hope you will be pleased with them.

Your affectionate Daughter Alice
