

I had I some bright little bits of my own
 In a blue summer ocean far of air alone
 Where a leaf never dies in the still blooming bower
 And banquet on through a whole year of flowers

Where the sun loves to pass
 With softness a day
 That the night only brings

At this will of the day
 Where simply to feel that breath that we live
 Is worth the best joy that life elsewhere can give

Then with soul ever ardent and pure as the dawn
 We should love as they loved in the first golden time
 The glow of the sunshine the color of the air
 We'll steal to our hearts and make all summer thus

With affection as free
 From desire as the lover
 And with hope like the bee
 Living always on flowers

My life should resemble a long day of light
 And my death come on holy and calm as the night
 James R. Allen of New York

A perfect woman nobly planned
 To warn to comfort and command
 And yet a spirit still and bright
 With something of an angel light
 Samuel Jackson Taylor of New York

Though cruel fate should be our part
 As far as the pole are lines
 The sea was around my heart
 Should I never be intruded
 Through mountains brown and desert's howl
 The sea's sea between
 Yet saved there my deathless soul
 I still would see my James J. R. M.
